

Karamoja Prayer Requests – July 2004

Rains

There has still been no rain since the last update. If the second rains (due later this month) do not come then drought and famine will follow. Please pray that enough rain falls in time and that famine can be averted.

Rev. Nelson Owilli

Nelson had planned to work full time in his role as Diocesan Secretary from 1st July, with someone else taking over the development work. This is now looking unlikely and the bishop has asked him to continue with the development role, whilst someone else is sought to undertake the Diocesan Secretary work. Please pray for guidance over this whole situation that the right choices would be made and the right person found so that the vital work can continue.

Youth

Several students have started courses at the Vocational Training Centre in Abim. Please pray for them and the staff who still need long-term funding. Please also pray for the Youth Revival Conference planned for December.

Deanery Visit

Preparations are now well underway. Please continue to pray for the arrangements and that the visit will benefit both sides of the link and pave the way for future visits.

Continued Prayer

- For security in Karamoja
- For Richard Ongom who was robbed
- Rev. Simon Akol Aisu and his family as he begins his post as Archdeacon in Amudat.

Karamoja Supper

This will now be held on 19th November and is likely to be at the Kingsley Centre.

Karamoja Prayer Requests – July 2004

Rains

There has still been no rain since the last update. If the second rains (due later this month) do not come then drought and famine will follow. Please pray that enough rain falls in time and that famine can be averted.

Rev. Nelson Owilli

Nelson had planned to work full time in his role as Diocesan Secretary from 1st July, with someone else taking over the development work. This is now looking unlikely and the bishop has asked him to continue with the development role, whilst someone else is sought to undertake the Diocesan Secretary work. Please pray for guidance over this whole situation that the right choices would be made and the right person found so that the vital work can continue.

Youth

Several students have started courses at the Vocational Training Centre in Abim. Please pray for them and the staff who still need long-term funding. Please also pray for the Youth Revival Conference planned for December.

Deanery Visit

Preparations are now well underway. Please continue to pray for the arrangements and that the visit will benefit both sides of the link and pave the way for future visits.

Continued Prayer

- For security in Karamoja
- For Richard Ongom who was robbed
- Rev. Simon Akol Aisu and his family as he begins his post as Archdeacon in Amudat.

Karamoja Supper

This will now be held on 19th November and is likely to be at the Kingsley Centre.

Karamoja Prayer Requests – July 2004

Rains

There has still been no rain since the last update. If the second rains (due later this month) do not come then drought and famine will follow. Please pray that enough rain falls in time and that famine can be averted.

Rev. Nelson Owilli

Nelson had planned to work full time in his role as Diocesan Secretary from 1st July, with someone else taking over the development work. This is now looking unlikely and the bishop has asked him to continue with the development role, whilst someone else is sought to undertake the Diocesan Secretary work. Please pray for guidance over this whole situation that the right choices would be made and the right person found so that the vital work can continue.

Youth

Several students have started courses at the Vocational Training Centre in Abim. Please pray for them and the staff who still need long-term funding. Please also pray for the Youth Revival Conference planned for December.

Deanery Visit

Preparations are now well underway. Please continue to pray for the arrangements and that the visit will benefit both sides of the link and pave the way for future visits.

Continued Prayer

- For security in Karamoja
- For Richard Ongom who was robbed
- Rev. Simon Akol Aisu and his family as he begins his post as Archdeacon in Amudat.

Karamoja Supper

This will now be held on 19th November and is likely to be at the Kingsley Centre.